DINNER TIME

Left: The ladder-back dining room chairs and the red settee are both French 19th-century; the red farmhouse table is American.

Below: In the open kitchen, Carrara marble countertops mix with rusticated custom cabinets that feature iron hardware.

OLD STYLE

Above: Traditional wainscoting, which echoes the kitchen cabinets, frames an antique claw-foot tub. The apothecary bottles on the windowsill help make this one of the most old-fashioned rooms in the house. The faucet hardware is from Waterworks.
